Description

The Covid-19 situation presents an urgent impetus for business leaders and organisations to step up their game. The “Great Lockdown” may have caused the global economy to contract by as much as -3 per cent, but the International Monetary Fund a rebound of as much as 5.8 per cent in 2021, if containment efforts can be gradually unwound.

How can businesses prepare across the three horizons of Now, Next and Beyond? Boards have to work closely with management to ensure they deal with disruption of production, supply chains and customer uncertainty. Using the EY Enterprise Resilience Framework, the presenters will address the mega-trends and economic outlook, and explore cross-industry impact through case studies. Participants will learn how to evaluate risks and levels of preparedness.
