It is one thing to be a shareholder or a senior executive of a company, but being a director is really something else. The difference in being a director is found in its formal duties, legal obligations, coupled with the risks and potential liabilities. Directors also need to bear strategic thinking abilities and other leadership and management skill sets in order to fulfil their roles well.

This introduction session is an engaging one. You will come up close and personal with those who are in the game as directors in both private and public companies. The session will cover essential aspects of:

- The directorship landscape
- Director's duties, responsibilities, liabilities and benefits
- Due diligence
- The director's journey
- Rewards

So, if you have the desire of becoming a director, then be a good one and bring on board the much-needed knowledge and best practices. This course is a good place to kick-off this rewarding journey.
